

Dear _____

I would like to ask permission for a day off on December 10th. Due to an unforeseen change of release dates, Cyberpunk 2077 will finally be available on that date.

Like most people at respectable organizations, such as Opera GX, I cannot be expected to operate at peak performance while simultaneously playing Cyberpunk 2077 or watching it streamed. For this reason, it would actually be in everyone's best interest if I were to dedicate that entire day, and perhaps the next as well, to immersion in Night City.

As you can see, this is completely out of my hands. I appreciate your understanding.

Sincerely
